Information Disclosure Statement

3. The Information Disclosure Statement received 12 December 2008 has been considered.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

5. Regarding the claimed terms, the Examiner notes that a "general term must be understood in the context in which the inventor presents it." In re Glaug 283 F.3d 1335, 1340, 62 USPQ2d 1151, 1154 (Fed. Cir. 2002). Therefore the Examiner must interpret the claimed terms as found on pages 1-36 of the specification. Clearly almost all the general terms in the claims may have multiple meanings. So where a claim term "is susceptible to various meanings, . . . the inventor's lexicography must prevail” Id. Using these definitions for the claims, the claimed invention was not reasonably found in the prior art.

6. The primary reference Ginter et. al. (U.S. 7,133,846)(“Ginter”) discloses as previously discussed. Ginter however does not teach at least disconnecting from the network, creating a renewed license rights package at the media device, and the user and the consumer are different individuals. Moreover, the missing claimed elements from Ginter are not found in a reasonable number of reference(s). Yet even if the missing claimed elements were found in a reasonable number of references, a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would not have been motivated to include these missing elements in an embodiment in the Ginter disclosure because: Ginter only discusses online transactions and the license packages are established by the creator or distributor not at the media device.

7. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
